PROFILE

Platform architect obsessed with reducing friction in the software development lifecycle. Architect of ORGANVM, a 113-repository system coordinated through automated governance, 104 self-healing CI/CD pipelines, and ~766K+ words of documentation. Expert in building automated guardrails, CLI developer tools, and modularized agent capability frameworks that allow engineering at frontier scale to remain secure and delightful. Driven by the philosophy that the process of creation, made visible and governable, is the ultimate engineering product.
